

IGUASSU FALLS - The torrential Iguassu River crosses the State of Paraná, Southern Brazil, from east to west and few kilometers before its junction with the Paraná River it. This wonder is located in very special scenery. The Iguassu Falls are protected by two National Parks – Brazil and Argentina both listed as Heritage Sites by UNESCO in 1986. The contrast between the green of the vegetation, the dark color of the basalt rocks with whirring waters plunging from a 72-meter-high cliff makes the visitors feel a profound communion with nature.
